

Dan Wagner is Triple S' Vice President of Strategic Accounts & Services. He is primarily responsible for creating programs and resources focused on the development of strategic value-based partnerships between distributors, manufacturers and end users. Dan is also responsible for working with end user groups on a national level to ensure a higher level of service based on tying effective facility cleaning and maintenance to positive business outcomes.

Prior to joining the Triple S team, Dan represented ISSA – The Worldwide Cleaning Industry Association where he lead the association's sustainability and facility service programs, including the Cleaning Industry Management Standard & CIMS-Green Building Certification Program.

Dan has published numerous articles and spoken at various conferences, workshops and seminars on strategic value-added service platforms, standardization, management principles, quality, and the true Power of Clean. Dan is also a noted "subject matter expert" on green cleaning and a sought-after speaker on environmental preferability, sustainability and green operations and maintenance. He has served as an SME for the International Facility Management Association and IFMA Foundation and is a coauthor of the Foundation's "Global Guide on Green Cleaning," as well as a primary contributor to the "Business of Green Cleaning" manual.

Dan also provides internal legal counsel to Triple S, having received his Juris Doctor degree from DePaul University in 1998. He is a licensed attorney in the State of Illinois; a member of the American Bar Association, the Illinois Bar Association, the American Society of Association Executives; and serves on the Board of Directors of the National Floor Safety Institute.
